NOTES FROM THE DIRECTOR

There's something wonderfully upside-down about Seussical Jr.—a story where an elephant hears what no one else can hear, believes what no one else believes, and refuses to give up on something the world has already dismissed.

Horton is, at his heart, a pursuer. He listens closely. He cares deeply. And once he knows someone is there—even someone small, unseen, and overlooked—he never walks away. It's a beautiful picture of what it means to love others with steadfast, unwavering faith. His journey brings to life the truth of Hebrews 11:1: "Faith is confidence in what we hope for and assurance about what we do not see." Horton doesn't just believe—he acts on that belief, again and again, no matter the cost.

And at the center of it all is a simple but powerful reminder:

"A person's a person, no matter how small."

It echoes the words of Psalm 139:14—that we are each "fearfully and wonderfully made," created with purpose, value, and a voice that matters.

You'll also see glimpses of that truth in JoJo, who discovers the power of his own voice, and in the Whos, who remind us that sometimes it takes all of us, together, to be heard. This cast has embraced that message wholeheartedly. They have learned to be bold, to lift one another up, and to believe—like Horton—that even the smallest voice can make the biggest difference. Thank you for being here, for supporting these students, and for leaning into the joy, the whimsy, and the truth this story holds.

THANK YOU SEUSSICAL FAMILIES

To our Seussical families, words don't even begin to express the amount of gratitude we have for you. From gathering costumes to crafting—before school, during, and long after—building our set, showing up for rehearsals, and supporting every bit of the beautiful chaos, you have poured so much into this production. You've helped us guide and manage this wonderfully wild group of students who couldn't be more perfect for this show, and you've been a steady, caring presence in the moments that mattered most—something we will never forget. Thank you for trusting us, for trusting the process, and for allowing us the privilege of loving, encouraging, and helping your children grow in their God-given gifts and talents.

We truly could not do this without you, and we are so grateful that this has become so much more than just a show.

You are family. We love your students, and we love you.
